Who Are We?

The TRF is a national, voluntary and non-competitive body, formed in 1970 by people who enjoyed exploring green roads by motorcycle.

Trail riding is only lawful on public roads. As green roads are subject to the same laws as surfaced roads, motorcycles and riders must be road-legal.

We ride by a strict code of conduct:

- Use only vehicular rights of way
- Keep to the defined way across farmland
- Give way to walkers, horses and cyclists
- Fasten gates to safeguard stock
- Travel at a safe speed
- Ride quietly
- Honour the country code
- Identify ourselves
- Acknowledge other users

The TRF aims to preserve and protect the full status of vehicular green roads and the rights of the motorcyclist and others to use them. It is our heritage and a legitimate part of the access network to the countryside.

We organise regular local runs and also organise runs with TRF groups in other areas, but if you want to join these you must be a member of the TRF. Go to a Group Night and find out what it's all about.

We are not a tour guide company! Just a group of like-minded volunteers. However, if you're a responsible motorcyclist who cares about the countryside the TRF could be what you're looking for.

What bikes to use? Any trail type motorcycle can be used but small light bikes with suitable tyres are best for new trail riders. Members prefer not to use tarmac surfaces where possible - but do not use illegal bridleways. Members' other interests range from classic and long distance trials to enduros.

WHAT WE DO

Ride road legal trail bikes on green roads to preserve the use of these roads and have fun with like-minded riders.

Support local motorcycle clubs and also equestrian events with their competitions, by helping with marshalling duties.

Research Rights of Way and work alongside other organisations such as The Byways & Bridleways Trust and The British Horse Society, to protect our recreational use of the countryside.

Discourage improper use of green roads. They are not for race practice, noisy bikes or ignorant riding!

Organise a range of social events including barbeques, fun days and trips to ride in other parts of the country.
